1898 - RAUKAWA - HAWKE'S BAY - NEW ZEALAND

WINE LIST

We proudly feature Hawkes Bay wines exclusively, on our wine list, and present what we believe are the finest wines that represent the region and the characteristics of each grape variety.

Hawkes Bay is the oldest and second largest wine region in New Zealand, established in the 1850's, now with over 5,000 hectares planted, dominated by red varieties comprising over 80% of New Zealand's Cabernet, Merlot and Syrah grape varieties

All wines on the list are available to be tasted by the glass by ordering just two glasses from the bottle you wish to taste. Library and large format bottles are excluded.

VINTAGES SUMMARY

| | |
|-------------|--|
| 1995 | Very good – long temperate season. Top wines have good balance of ripeness and underlying acidity helping with longevity. |
| 1998 | Excellent – very hot season producing outstanding wines across the board. Yet, only the wines picked at optimum balance have lasted the distance. |
| 1999 | Very good – slightly overshadowed by 1998. A more temperate season. Syrah showed very well with great florals. |
| 2000 | Very good – top wines again have good balance of ripeness and acidity. |
| 2001 | Challenging – largely devastated by frost, those that survived had lower yields and concentration to match. |
| 2002 | Excellent – Syrah really emerged with a bang. Arguably, a little too hot as Syrah, in particular, tended towards an overripe style with higher alcohols. The top wines manage to handle it well with no signs of fading. |
| 2004 | Very good – often overlooked as great year for Chardonnay but 'average' for reds. A more classic year for Syrah with best showing great elegance. |
| 2005 | Very good – Blended reds show great finesse and balance without resorting to overripeness. |
| 2007 | Excellent – again, slightly overlooked but arguably a sleeper vintage. Great for wines across the board. |
